

Consignment at Supersonic Music

Consignment here is really easy. There are two programs from which to choose:

A) You determine what amount of money you will accept if we sell your merchandise. If we agree to display your merchandise, we are at liberty to sell it for any amount we see fit. After selling your merchandise, we pay you your predetermined amount.

B) You determine the amount the merchandise will be offered for sale, then you agree to accept payment of a certain percentage of the sale or accept store credit for a certain percentage of the sale.

In either case, you remain in control. If at any time you want to remove the merchandise from the premises, you may do so. Although we attempt to get the best price for your merchandise, you are recommended to provide for us a price range that will fit your needs. This is because we may sell your merchandise as a part of a larger package wherein the buyer may want a "package deal." It remains your decision to accept or decline an offer for less than your determination.

Supersonic Music will offer your product for sale just as any other merchandise we carry. We will display, advertise, and/or promote your merchandise in any way we see fit. Expect timely payment on consignment sales from us. However, we can in no way be held responsible for any damage sustained to your merchandise by persons not employed by Supersonic Music. Though we attempt to sell your merchandise for you, please understand that our stuff gets dinked, dropped, marked, and stained through normal customer evaluation just as yours may. Please note that our insurance does not in any way cover consignment merchandise, so CONSIGN AT YOUR OWN RISK. You are required to certify that the merchandise you are offering to consign is yours and is not stolen property.
